SOME VETS TO HAVE HOMES FOR FAMILIES BY FEB. 1

Sixteen three-bedroom apartments in the Vet Housing Development will be completed "on or about Feb. 1" and from the general air of buoyancy and relief pervading the Authority's office this week the "about" is sheer caution.

Added to the above good news is the fact that an additional building with multiple apartments will be ready every two weeks or possibly ten days.

In clarifying the availability of the apartments, Robert Hauser, executive director, stressed the fact that the first buildings completed by choice of the contractor are Nos. 4 and 5—in the farthest northeast corner of the area, bounded from a distance by the Mystic river and Alewife brook. In these only three-bedroom apartments are available. Thus veterans with families suitable to apartments of this size will be first.

The buildings, particularly as to the layout on the outside, are not 100 percent completed. Walks, drying and play areas, grass seeding and landscaping are in various stages of completion.

Prospective tenants have been notified by the Authority by mail.

A. H. S. RESUMES WINNING WAYS; TOPS MEDFORD ON TRACK, 39-38

In the most exciting encounter of the Metropolitan Track League's third session, Arlington eked out a slender victory over Medford, 39-38, last Saturday at the 101st infantry armory.

The meet was decided in the high jump which Arlington entered with a 32-31 lead. Fred Collier, who had already copped a first in the 45 yard high hurdles, leaped 5 ft. 4 in. to pick up the all important five points. Ed Donnelly of Arlington and Charles English of Medford split the second and third place points and Arlington clinched the win with a 39-38 lead.

Medford's relay team then won as an anticlimax.

Other winners for Arlington were Bob Stevens, with a record of 1000 in 2:33.6; Bill Kenally in the 300; Ronald Wilson in the mile; and Frank Rindoni in the shot. Second and third place point-getters included Leveroni, Salisbury and Cronin.

FINAL DAY TO REGISTER

Today (Thursday) is the last day to register for the course in parliamentary law offered as part of the Adult Education program. The hours this evening are from 7:30 to 9 p.m. at the High School. The registrations are unlimited. The course will be given on Monday evenings beginning Jan. 23 from 7:30 to 9 p.m.

Lawrence R. Grove, clerk of the House of the General Court, will give the first lecture. The three succeeding ones will be presented by Helen R. Watson, Boston attorney and instructor in parliamentary law for University Extension. The final two lectures will be given by John M. Russell, Esq., town moderator of Watertown.

No previous knowledge of the subject is presumed.

Swamped

The other courses offered earlier in the fall were oversubscribed by nearly one hundred for each course. These included leathercraft, rughooking and typing. Because of the popular demand, Director Joseph Gaudet feels that the program should be expanded next year to accommodate interested townspeople.

The trend today is a tremendous upsurge in the desire for learning and knowledge.

Glynn Submits Rebuttal Letter On Library

In a promised letter to this paper, Frederick S. Glynn, Jr., of Valentine road, candidate for Library Trustee, offers his rebuttal to the letter which appeared in these columns two weeks ago, written by Francis Keefe and Roscoe O. Elliott, incumbents.

Editor, Arlington Advocate
Arlington, Mass.

Dear Sir:

The attack by my opponents for the office of Library Trustee, directed against my platform and activities, has accomplished the only end I seek. My purpose which more and more people are beginning to understand, is to acquaint the taxpayer with what we can do with our annual appropriation, bequests and present equipment in regard to the library.

I have offered a specific platform; my opponents have offered none. Beyond their unquestioned integrity, they do not advance a

Memorial Service Observance For Deceased Members

A meeting of the Arlington Woman's Club was held in the Robbins Memorial Town Hall on Jan. 12 with Mrs. Americo Chaves in the chair.

Mrs. Chaves opened with a short memorial service for two members who had passed away since the last meeting—Mrs. W. B. Newell and Mrs. Benjamin A. Norton who served as club's president from 1897-1898.

A letter from Mrs. Harvey C. Abbott, federation secretary, was read commending the club's representation at the Federation meeting.

Mrs. Nathan W. Wood, chairman of the committee on Religion, gave a short talk concerning the workings of the new committee and then introduced the speaker, Mr. Hobart Mitchell. He opened his "Sermon in Song" with "Lord, God of Abraham." After which the spoken text and sacred songs alternated in developing the sermon's theme.

The Art Corners featured books of the three faiths and were in charge of Mrs. Wood, Mrs. F. B. Florencourt and Mrs. J. Clark Wyman.

SCOUTS TO BURN CAMP MORTGAGE

The burning of the mortgage on Camp Menotomy, symbolizing payment in full, will be the climax of the annual meeting of the Arlington Girl Scouts, Inc., at the dinner next Tuesday in the vestry of the Unitarian Church.

Special invitations to join in the celebration have been sent to those who have worked for and contributed to the Camp. Albert Wunderly, long-time supporter of the camp, will be toastmaster.

The history of the camp will be given by Mrs. Harold Yeames, who was on the committee which chose the site in New Hampshire for the camp. She has remained active in the conduct of its affairs ever since.

Barbara Gaudet, representing the Brownies; Betty Center, representing the Scouts; and Mrs. Lee Cursey Klein, representing "old campers," will each speak briefly of their camp memories.

Joining in the mortgage-burning ceremony will be Rita Egan, Penny Keatley, Marcia Moltman, Betty Center, Barbara Muller, Mona Shute, Sarah Weston, Marianne Wood, Margaret Whitehouse and Patricia Cox.

Reservations for the dinner may be made by calling the Girl Scout office.

BOARD SUBMITS 22 STREETS

Twenty-two unfinished streets, the estimated cost of which is $327,685.52, have been recommended by the Joint Board. These will appear on the Warrant for the Annual Town Meeting in March. (A complete breakdown of the streets and costs will appear next week.—Ed.)

The Joint Board brought to a close Tuesday night the series of hearings on proposed street construction, which chairman Peterson characterized as the largest program in number of miles of streets ever undertaken in Arlington.

Tuesday night's hearing covered 5,922 feet at a figure of over one hundred thousand dollars total cost.

Only one abutter from Blossom st. appeared at the hearing. Three property owners had already registered their disapproval of the cost of the project.

Waverly st. was well represented by an enthusiastic group. Twenty-three voted in favor with one opposed. Mrs. Benjamin Gott of Charlton st. was accorded the privilege of speaking. She spoke warmly about the impassability at the junction of Florence ave. and Charlton st.

George st. entered the ranks of the few streets whose approval of the Board's estimate was unanimous, despite the fact that near the Concord Turnpike, the street level is planned to be 15 inches above an existing driveway.

Upland Rd. West had only one vote in opposition. Edward Clark of 26 Upland Road protested a high assessment for his property on the grounds that due to its precipitous slope, it would be unusable for future building. The Board indicated that it would entertain an appeal for an abatement here. Naturally, this present Board cannot commit a future Board.

Four abutters on Richfield rd. accepted the town's proposal. Two stated that they were not in favor.

Rhinecliff st. with a length of 1,910 feet at a total cost of $42,917.24 for the street, plus $12,751.50 for sewers was the longest street considered. Some misunderstanding about the requirement of sewers led to considerable discussion. John J. Sullivan of 130 Rhinecliff st. spoke force-

Latest count shows sixty-two candidates for 142 vacancies. Number of openings totals over half of the total membership.

Miss Chamberlain Receives Highest D.A.R. Award

Miss Judith Chamberlain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter T. Chamberlain of 160 Jason st., was presented Tuesday with the Good Citizenship pin by the local chapter of D.A.R. Mrs. Terry Shuman, state recording secretary, made the award at the meeting of the chapter at Library Hall. Mrs. John Sampson, regent, presided. Mrs. Chamberlain attended as honored guest.

Miss Chamberlain's name was drawn several weeks ago from among the names of six outstanding local girls. The candidates must rank high in dependability, service, leadership and patriotism.

Former winners have already attained remarkable records, reflecting the excellence of previous selections.

Previous Winners

In '45 the first local winner was Frances Kord, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Zigmont Kord of Grafton st., who graduated with high honors from Wellesley College last year and is continuing her studies in Public Health at Yale University.

In '46 Phyllis Wyman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Clark Wyman of Richfield rd., was picked. Miss Wyman is a senior and her name has continuously appeared on the dean's list at Denison University in Ohio. She is an accomplished violinist and violist.

In '47 the winner was Naomi Palmer, whose parents now live in Mansfield. She is currently studying at Wellesley.

In '48 Jean DiFazio became the selected girl. Currently Miss DiFazio is secretary and bookkeeper at the office of the Advocate. In fact a more apt title would be "Chief of Staff." She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel C. DiFazio of 78 Mass. ave.

In '49 Delores Heffernan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Heffernan of 95 Menotomy rd., was named. She is a freshman at Radcliffe, majoring in English.

fully. William H. McLaughlin expressed what proved to be the opinion of the majority that by accepting the town's proposal now to install sewers and roadway, the final cost would be less than if done separately. The vote was 26 in favor and 13 opposed.

The hearing ended at 11:30 p.m. The Board expressed its regret at the lateness of the hour, but pointed out that they had tried to get through the maximum number of hearings before the closing of the town warrant.

An alarming situation exists to date with only 62 candidates filed for the 142 vacancies in the roster of Town Meeting Members.

This fact was revealed early this week through a check made at the office of Town Clerk by the Legislative committee of the Arlington Citizens' Committee.

The ease with which a public-spirited citizen may place his or her name on the ballot may not be realized. It is pointed out. Nomination papers, secured from the Town Clerk, need have only 10 signatures of registered voters in the particular precinct. The filing deadline is Monday, Jan. 30 at 5 p.m.

In fact under present conditions a man may elect himself to the membership by one vote. It is stated. If there are three running for four places open on the ballot, one may write in his own name and become a member. Hardly the democratic way!

It is explained that the Members appropriate all the money spent by the town. In reality, then, whether the tax rate goes higher or lower is entirely in their hands.

The 142 vacancies represents more than half of the 243 total Town Meeting Members. The number is extraordinarily high this year because of the change in four precincts made by the Selectmen. As a result the entire membership in each precinct must run for election.

REGISTRATIONS VERY POOR

In spite of the fact that adults may register at the Town Clerk's office on any day except Saturday and Sunday between the hours of 9 a.m. and 5 p.m., there remain close to six thousand unregistered voters in the town.

In view of the fact that, besides the usual election of officials, there will be the important referendum on changes in town government makes the situation doubly alarming.

In an effort to overcome the situation, Rep. Henry E. Keenan and a committee has mailed postcards to people unregistered, explaining the proper procedure to follow—a personal visit to the Town Hall.

In the past three days more than sixty have registered. However, this is considered paltry. The deadline for the coming town election is Feb. 14. Opportunity to register evenings will soon be announced.

THREE-MAN BOARDS

We propose for consideration a complete change in the usual concept of seniority on three-man boards whether they be civic, governmental or social. The suggested change would also apply to six- or nine-man bodies where two or three members are elected or appointed annually for three years.

The usual concept is for the third-year-man to be named "chairman." This is done as a matter of precedence on the boards of Selectmen and Public Works, for example, as well as many others.

Our idea is to call the first year the "junior" member; the second-year-man, "chairman"; the third-year-man, "senior." We are acquainted with a committee using this set-up and believe it works splendidly.

The advantages are many. Let's take the "senior" member as opposed to the usual procedure naming him, "chairman." The senior member is the man with the most experience and therefore the man from which should stem matters of future policy in relation to the past. He becomes the thinker, the fount of "know-how." Further, having served for two years, he has become increasingly tired because of late meetings and longs "to be home once in a while."

Often times a good man will refuse to serve another term and withdraws from his position of service to the community — civic, social or governmental. It seems to us, then, that he should be relieved of the extra duties of "chairman."

The second-year-man therefore, becomes the "chairman." He is the board's representative at functions or necessary contacts with other committees and organizations. He has had one full year of training and experience. He is ready to show and prove his learning. He states the various positions of the Board, most of which usually go unopposed. If opposed, the "senior" member with broader experience undertakes the rebuttal.

The "junior" member, under our plan, is the research man and the one to work with the secretary of the board, if there be one. By research we mean checking previous decisions of the board under similar conditions, or, if need be, checking what other committees or boards are doing in other parts of the town, within the town's government, or in other towns, states and nations — whichever may apply.

Another argument for applying the proposed change to boards which are political is that the present set-up is embarrassing to the chairman, the third-year-man who is up for re-election. Now, when he attends functions as official representative of his board, as he should, he is continually being branded as a "vote-getter," a "cheap politician." At best, his appearance is often misconstrued.

Under our plan each member becomes a man with a definite job and embarked upon a course which will train him better so that the entity which the board serves will benefit.

To The Editor

January 7, 1950

To the Editor,

Dear Sir:

In reading the Advocate of January 5, under the heading, "Important Advocate Headlines For Year 1949," two very important items were omitted. What about A. H. S. becoming Greater Boston Interscholastic Hockey Champs, February 5 and New England Hockey Champs, March 19?

Yours truly,

MISSIONARY SOCIETY

Despite the severe weather, a good number attended the meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church recently, with Mrs. Gordon Saunders presiding. Tea was served by the Highland Hillside Group.

Literature was exhibited on tables and walls of the chapel. Special music was furnished by Miss Miriam McNay, who sang several selections. The program chairman, Mrs. Earl Bolton, presented Rev. and Mrs. Earl Jackson. Mr. Jackson gave an informative talk on Christian Citizenship. Mrs. J. Clark Wyman was in charge of the devotions.

GLYNN REPLIES

single argument why they should be returned to office. They do not point to a single accomplishment or indicate a single original proposal for the future in regard to the library.

They agree that every objective I have stated is a worthy one. We differ on one point. They say, "We can't." I say, "I'll sure try." They forget that I secured the original appropriation to put the East Arlington Branch out on Massachusetts avenue where people in that section could see it and use it conveniently. They forget that I was told nothing could be done about the unfinished streets and, in 1950, more streets will be accepted than in the past ten years. When people will say, "We can," it is surprising how much can be accomplished.

Regrets Methods

They don't like my methods. I don't myself. I should much rather work quietly with them. Until I gain their support, I'll have to fight for the objectives both of us seem to have in common as best I can.

I regret that I seem to have irritated my opponents. If they could forget that this is a political campaign and sit down with me, I am sure we could reconcile our different attitudes. I have asked at least twice for an audience before the Board and have been refused. I shall try again.

My supporters are more indignant over the charges against my platform and myself than I am. The facts and right are on my side, and my friends are loyal. So I'll be pardoned if I do not get as excited in my reply as my opponents did.

Higher Rate

It is possible to get more than 2% on trust fund investments. If it were not, every savings bank paying 2 1/2% on deposits would have to close its doors. I refer my opponents to the chapter in Mass. Gen. Laws on Libraries (Chap. 78, Sec. 11) which states: "all money or property which the town may receive by gift or bequest for said library shall be administered by the board in accordance with the provisions of such gifts or bequest."

Of course, I had professional advice. Thousands of similar institutions are realizing a higher yield than 2%. It all depends on the conditions of the original bequest. An officer of an important investment firm has offered his advice, free of charge, to any

That Man About Town

By MAT

This week we were driving down Massachusetts Avenue opposite School st. Here, on the sidewalk, we saw a procession of children. Leading them was one of our policemen. The dozen or more children had just come from the Cutter School and were being led over the cross-walk to Brattle st.

We noted particularly the friendliness expressed by the officer and the confidence and obedience of the little boys and girls in him. This scene is repeated daily and by many officers throughout the town. Thus are the lives of many young ones cared for by those who work for us.

As the political picture develops here in town, we can, at this time, predict the March election of town officials is going to have a good turnout of voters. The campaign itself is going to be a vigorous one as the candidates vie for the votes. From a slow start, with few candidates foreseen in the field, the picture is now that almost every office will be contested.

The Citizens Committee, now fully active again, is going to be faced with the problem of making endorsements and within a month. The final date for filing nomination papers is January 30 and that is the date at which the membership of the committee will approve its Qualification Committee's and Board of Directors' choices of endorsees. From that date on, the verbiage is going to be hot and heavy. Wait and see!

As an example of cooperation between town departments, Lucinda Spofford, librarian, cites that "a very attractive sign—designed, lettered and set-up by the Public Works dept.—now appears on the lawn" of the Hts. Dallin Branch. Let's have more of this!

The problem of the bonus which was intended to give every town employee at least the same amount of salary or wages in 1949 as in 1948 is a most perplexing one. It is our understanding that nothing was done to set this up after the October 17 town meeting, where it was voted, until December.

My opponents add up the sums in the Robbins Art Fund to $75,000. I referred specifically to the income of this fund. It is general knowledge that often such bequests are restricted to the use of the interest only. I erred in neglecting to state that the $30,000 bequest last May was not yet available for investment. However, the trustees have had the original bequest, which now amounts to $45,000, for twenty-five years. I submit, and they agree, that they have been unable to use the fund. Why, then, did they accept the additional bequest of $30,000 last May? I propose to try to solve this problem.

Steadfast In Aims

My interest in current foreign literature is in relation to the school program as well as my own reading habits. Even a cursory examination of this department on their part would reveal that it is inadequate. The machinery for getting such books on loan from other libraries is uncertain, despite the splendid cooperation of the professional staff. I have used this service.

Despite the persistent urging on the part of many groups in town to run for one of the town's more coveted offices, I have refused in order to follow my sincere interest in the work of the library. From this interest I have never turned away. My chief interest in the town's affairs remains the library. I shall fight in my own way, with what resources I can command, to realize the problem which not only I, but my opponents as well, agree upon. Our only difference is that I should like to see part of it realized in my life time.

Very truly yours,

(Signed) Frederick Stanley Glynn, Jr.

A.V.N.A. Faced Many Crises in 1949
Revealed In Reports at Meeting

The annual meeting of the Arlington Visiting Nursing Association was held on January 19th in the Robbins Library Hall. Mrs. Francis Chamberlain, president, opened the meeting and thanked the officers and directors for their help the past year.

Mrs. Edith Winn, recording secretary, gave a most interesting report. She said the Association had been faced with one crisis after another during the year. First, the resignation of Mrs. Estes, office secretary; next, the necessity of finding new headquarters and moving from Court street to 13A Medford st.; another crisis was presented by the failure of the Community Chest to provide necessary funds, leaving the Association $1400 short of the amount anticipated to carry on the work of the nurses.

Another serious one came with the resignation of Miss Fandel, supervisor of nurses for 30 years. The treasurer's report was read by Mrs. Frederick W. Hill and the report of the auditor, Ernest Hesselstine, was read by Miss Isabel E. Hallett.

The report of Miss Caroline A. Fandel, Supervisor of Nurses, was read by Miss Ethel M. Fisher, and showed 9525 calls made by nurses during the year, an increase of 1172 calls over the previous year. Miss Fandel also reported excellent attendance at both of the Well Baby Clinics. Mrs. Chamberlain expressed the deep regret of the Board in accepting the resignation of Miss Fandel, and stated that plans were underway for a reception in her honor at a later date. She thanked all the nurses for the faithful services they have performed and are continuing to perform in spite of being under-compensated. She also expressed her appreciation of the services of Mrs. Rafelli who has replaced Mrs. Estes as office secretary.

New Supervisor
Mrs. Chamberlain stated that it had been the wish of the Board to appoint a supervisor from the excellent staff of nurses. This was made impossible, however, by the requirements of the State that any supervisor of a Grade "A" or organization must be a graduate of a School of Public Health Nursing. It was therefore a great disappointment to the members that the position of supervisor could not be offered to nurses of the staff.

Miss Dorothy Leavitt, new supervisor of nurses, was then introduced to the meeting and her previous experience and qualifications for the position outlined.

Power shortage in New England?
NONSENSE!

This very week two great new electric stations with a total capacity of 85,000 kilowatts have come into service at Portsmouth, N. H. and West Springfield, Mass.

And by next autumn, the number of new generating units added to New England's electric resources since last summer will have grown to eight—with a total of 352,250 kilowatts. Every bit of this electric power is available throughout New England over a modern network of interconnecting transmission lines.

There is no shortage of electric power here. New England's electric power needs are being taken care of by the energy and vision of self-supporting electric companies—not only for today and tomorrow but far into the future as still more new plants take their place in the service of New England homes, commerce and industry.

A. H. S. SIX SURGES UPWARD BY WALLOPING STONEHAM, 5-1

The Arlington hockey squad came onto the ice late, but after the opening few minutes of the game, Stoneham probably wished the Red and Gray had never shown up. For in those opening minutes, Stoneham piled up a quick three goal lead, and although the Stoneham defense tightened from there on, it could not halt Arlington's 5-1 win.

Shortly after the minute mark, Jack Kenny took a pass from Bob Kiley, rode over the blue line, was trapped on the right lane, so let go a long, routine shot. Stoneham's goalie, Whiston, who is woefully weak with his hands, grabbed the puck, but it bounced through into the net.

At the two minute mark, Capt. Bill Meehan duplicated the first gift goal. He took a Kiley pass out, raced over the blue line, and unleashed a high, blazing shot. Again the puck broke through Whiston's left glove, and the red light flashed.

At 3:14 the Red and Grey scored the prettiest goal of the G.B.I.'s fifth season. Kiley stole the puck from Stoneham, passed up to Meehan, who stick-handled

A.H.S. Five Has 4-2 Record With Three More Wins

In a busy week featuring four games, Arlington High's basketball team proved icy-veined by downing Cambridge Latin, 37-35, and Rindge Tech, 30-29, ran away from Winchester, 40-29, before bowing to a strong Waltham squad, 28-24.

The game with Latin was a nip and tuck affair which gave the Red and Gray its second win of the winter. Swanson was high scorer with twelve points. Cosgrove and Peterson swished in 8 and 7 points respectively.

Against Rindge, Arlington led 13-12 at intermission time in a game that was a thriller all the way. A one-hander by Dick DeRosas near the end settled the issue. If Arlington can keep winning these close, tough games, it could go places. Swanson was again high scorer with 12 points.

On the weekend, Arlington made its record 4 and 1 when it slaughtered neighboring Winchester, 40-29, in a game as one-sided as to make it uninteresting except from an Arlington viewpoint. On Tuesday night of this week, the Red and Gray lost a heart breaker to the heavily favored Waltham team. Leading by 10 points at one stage of the game, the local five was held to a meagre three points during the second half and watched its lead dissipate and finally overcome, 28-24. Swanson racked 9 points to lead the loser's scoring column.

Rod & Reelers Lay Plans For Public Meeting

A representative of the State Department of Conservation Division of Fisheries and Game will speak at the next meeting of the Spy Pond Rod and Reel Association, to be held on Wednesday evening, Feb. 15 in the Robbins Memorial Library, Arlington.

The local anglers' association was organized last summer for the purpose of bettering conditions in the Spy Pond and "Little Pond" sections in Arlington. It is acting to rid the areas of collected garbage and rubbish which have developed into breeding places for rats, making this popular fishing spot an unhealthy place for youngsters and adults who come from Cambridge, Somerville and other nearby cities, as well as Arlington, to fish at "Spy."

The association also hopes to affect the general improvement of fishing conditions at Spy Pond.

Helpful Bill
"We hope parents of young children will join us in our fight against the unhealthy conditions that now exist," urged Henry D. Wolosinski of Arlington, President of the Association. "Right now," he added "we are extremely pleased to know that a bill providing for the investigation of this and local public areas where unsanitary conditions may prevail, will be introduced by Representative Keenan in the State Legislature, on Jan. 24. We hope the public will get behind this kind of important legislation."

Information regarding the Spy Pond Rod and Reel Association may be obtained from its secretary, Mrs. Clarence Cheney.

O'BRIEN ENTERS SCHOOL RACE

This week William J. O'Brien, Jr. of 319 Mass. Ave., announced his candidacy for School Committee. Mr. O'Brien, a lifelong resident of the town, will base his campaign, according to his statement, on the theme that a committee that passes on all public school policies and budgets should have representation from diversified points of view.

"It is a mistake," says Mr. O'Brien, "for a town to elect all of its members from teachers in other school systems, parent-teacher association executives, and department of education officials. These people all reflect the educators' ideas on school operation."

"Of course, it is important to have trained educators and those who understand the teacher's problems on a school committee; but, like any organization, the committee is weakened by a quantity of members with the same approach to each problem," he claims.

Mr. O'Brien served in the Atlantic-Pacific Theatre on the USS Celano and in Caribbean waters on the USS Steinacker during World War II. He attended the Hardy and Parmenter schools in his youth. He also graduated from the Junior High East and Arlington High School. After his discharge from the Navy, he studied at Mather Hall School and Tufts College.

Mr. O'Brien is the Americanism officer of Post 39, American Legion, and a member of the advisory board of the adult education school instituted this year. At Tufts College, he majored in economics and also studied both educational psychology and methods of instruction.

JEWISH COMMUNITY CENTER

A meeting of the Arlington Jewish Community Center was held at the American Legion Hall on Jan. 17. A quiz program was held and enjoyed. Joseph Tall entertained with Jewish music and anecdotes.

Committees have been selected for a musical revue which the Center is planning for April 12 at the Junior High East.

New Members Welcomed By First Parish

At a social hour reception following the morning worship service Sunday at the First Parish (Unitarian) church, thirty-two new members were welcomed.

Cook, 23 Jason st.; Mr. Robert C. Emmons, 10 Symphony st., Boston; Mr. and Mrs. Richard S. Goodwin, 27 Hawthorne ave.; Mr. and Mrs. Thor Hansson, 13 Pine Ridge rd.; Mr. and Mrs. George A. VARIA STUDY CLUB

An unusual program was presented by the Varia Study Club on its first regular meeting of the new year on Jan. 9. The title of the program, which was presented at the home of former president, Mrs. Cornelius Collins, 30 Rangely road, was "Come, Some Music! Come, the Recorders!"

The title, a quotation from Shakespeare, served to announce the guest artists of the evening, Mrs. Marion Symon, Miss Katherine Conning, and Mrs. William E. Cowley, who gave a most interesting and enjoyable program on the ancient instrument, the recorder.

Mrs. Symonds (the former Marion Fowler of Arlington) whose major instrument is the piano, also delighted her listeners with a beautifully rendered selection by Hayden.

Mrs. Curtis K. Pinkham, vice-president, was in the chair for the business meeting, in the absence of the president, Mrs. John E. Fuller. Mrs. Fuller's continued absence, due to serious illness in her family, is greatly regretted by all the members of the club.

Following the musical program, refreshments were served by a committee composed of Mrs. W. Gordon Taylor, Mrs. J. Nelson Berry, and Mrs. James R. MacLean.

Several friends of members attended the meeting as guests, among them Mrs. Richard Stimpson, Mrs. William Fowler, Mrs. Arthur E. Broeg and Miss Helen M. Geary.

"Wander World"

The big day of vicarious adventure for hundreds of our townspeople arrives Wednesday, Jan. 25, when Commander Irving Johnson arrives here to present his "Yankee's Wander World" at Robins Memorial Hall at 8 p.m. The affair is sponsored by the First Universalist Church.

In complete comfort and in an hour and a half an adventure trip will be taken to all sorts of out-of-the-way, alluring places all around the world.

With Commander Johnson the audience will arrive at Pitcairn, the mile-wide island, rising 1,000 feet above the South Pacific, which was settled by Captain Bligh's English jack-tar mutineers and their Tahiti brides in 1790. They will meet the mutineers' great-grandchildren now numbering 132 on Pitcairn. A few others are working or studying in New Zealand.

Among the other alluring spots to be visited will be Galapagos, the fisherman's paradise where tuna are caught by the ton with rod and line; Easter Island with its hundreds of mysterious stone images; Rapa Island where there are six women to each man; Tahiti and the lovely dancing girls; Pago Pago celebrating its biggest native holiday; Tinian Island where a volcano recently blew the principal village to bits and chased all inhabitants off their island; the New Hebrides to see ancient cannibal rites and an abandoned war-time base at San To; New Guinea to search for pearls; Borneo, Siam, Bali, Zanzibar!

—Mr. and Mrs. C. Rodney Sage gave a dinner party at their home on Richfield road last week, preceding the Ellisons' concert at the First Church Congregational in Cambridge. Their guests included Mr. and Mrs. Tuckerman Day, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Hall, and Mr. and Mrs. W. Alan Morton.

Here Is Another Time The Anti-Trust Lawyers Were Wrong!

Ever since the anti-trust lawyers filed their suit to put A&P out of business, they have been making, in the newspapers and over the radio, various "allegations" about how they think this company does business.

Please remember that "allegations" are charges that have not been proved.

In this case they will be disproved.

There have been times in the past when the anti-trust lawyers made very damaging "allegations" about this company that the courts eventually decided were utterly without foundation.

In our last advertisement we told you about the time the anti-trust lawyers charged that A&P, two other food chains and two labor unions conspired to fix the price of bread in Washington, D. C.

And yet, when this case came to trial, it was revealed that the defendants were actually selling bread cheaper than most other stores in Washington, and there was absolutely no evidence that they had ever engaged in any such "alleged" conspiracy.

That was the time Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough instructed the jury to bring in a verdict of "not guilty."

It was the time he said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"If you were to show this record to any experienced trial lawyer in the world, he would tell you that there was not any evidence at all."

"Honestly, I have never in my over forty years' experience seen tried a case that was as absolutely devoid of evidence as this. That is the honest truth. I have never seen one like it."

But this was not the only time that the anti-trust lawyers made such serious "allegations" against A&P which were false. Again, and still again, they brought cases against A&P and suffered defeat.

As we have said, we think you are entitled to know about these other cases. And now, we are going to tell you about the second time the anti-trust lawyers were wrong.

The North Carolina Potato Case

Judge Wyche said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"I have studied this case from the very outset. In my opinion there is no testimony produced from which it can reasonably be inferred that the defendants entered into a combination to depress or lower the price of potatoes."

"I might say that I never tried a case in my life where a greater effort, more work, more investigation had been done, combing almost with a fine-tooth comb to gather evidence, as was done in this case."

"But, as was said a long time ago, you can't make brick without straw, and you can't make a case without facts."

So, here was a case in which the anti-trust lawyers made seriously damaging charges against A&P in which the Judge decided that there were no facts to support those charges.

That is why we say the anti-trust lawyers can be wrong and have been wrong.

That is why we say that they are wrong again, just as they were wrong in the Washington bread case and the North Carolina potato case.

We are going to show the American people that the suit to destroy A&P is really a suit against efficiency and against real competition.

The real question involved in this suit is whether businessmen are going to be encouraged to do a better and more efficient job; or whether we are going to let the anti-trust lawyers in Washington blow the whistle on anybody who gets big by giving the people more for their money.

No one can make us believe that it is a crime to try to sell the best quality food at the lowest possible price.

In December, 1941, the anti-trust lawyers brought a criminal suit in Wilson, North Carolina.

They charged that A&P's fresh fruit and vegetable buying subsidiary, and other good American citizens, had conspired to fix and depress prices paid farmers for potatoes in North Carolina, Virginia and Maryland.

Can anyone imagine any charge calculated to be more damaging to a retail grocery business that must rely on farmers, day after day, for the food we distribute to our customers?

In this case the anti-trust lawyers gave a story to the newspapers, telling millions of farmers that we were the kind of people who would force their prices down, deprive them of a decent income, and lower their families' living standard.

These charges were false.

They made these charges despite the fact that it has always been A&P's policy to pay our farm suppliers fair market prices for all produce; to aid agriculture through better distribution of its products; to narrow the spread between farm and retail prices; and to help farmers build better markets for their products.

That is why many thousands of farmers all over the country are now coming to our support.

When the case finally came to trial, the anti-trust lawyers put on as their first witness a potato expert of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

This expert, who was the anti-trust lawyers' own witness, testified that contrary to the anti-trust lawyers' "allegations," the defendants made every effort to help the Department of Agriculture in its efforts to aid the potato farmer in better marketing of his products and in getting a better price for his products.

When the anti-trust lawyers had put in their evidence and had argued their case Federal Judge C. C. Wyche directed the jury to bring in a verdict of "not guilty."
